DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

- Applicant's amendment filed on May 11, 2005 has been received and entered in the case.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

- The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

- Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shuzo (JP 06-143,073).

Shuzo discloses in e.g., Fig. 1 an apparatus for fixing a semiconductor wafer by suction, comprising:

Art Unit: 2815

- a vacuum chuck table (1; section 0012, line 2) having a porous plate (3; section 0012, line 1) overlaying a plurality of concentric suction grooves (grooves in the element 1; see previous page of this Office action);
- a plurality of suction passages (8a – 8c; see Fig. 1) each being correspondingly connected to the plurality of concentric suction grooves (see Fig. 1); and
- each of the plurality of suction passages being connected to more than one hole (holes in the element 1; see previous page of this Office action) on the porous plate (see Fig. 1);
- suctioning device for sequentially introducing a suctioning force into the suction passages at different timing (since each 8a – 8c are connected to the source of a vacuum by separate inlets 7a – 7c, the suction passages 8a – 8c disclosed is conceivably able to allow the suction force into the suction passages at different timing even if it is not optimized for this purpose).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1 – 3 and 14 – 18 are allowed.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hanaoka et al., Hiyamizu et al. and Thompson disclose a vacuum chuck table with a porous plate.

Art Unit: 2815
